2.2 Senate Regulations

Senate Regulations state, “unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you will be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites.”

3. Textbook

- 3.1 Kieso, Weygandt, Warfield, Young, Wiecek, and McConomy, Intermediate Accounting, Volume 2, 11th Canadian Edition, Wiley Publishing, 2016.
- 3.2 Kieso Study Guide, Volume 2, Eleventh Canadian Edition, Wiley Publishing, 2016 (optional)
- 3.3 CPA Handbook available on the Western Libraries website.

4. Course Objectives and Handling of the Course

4.1 Course objectives

Upon successful completion of this course students will be able to:

1. Assess the accounting issues associated with the liabilities and shareholders' equity side of the Statement of Financial Position in order to determine the most appropriate approach to the measurement, presentation and disclosure issues.
2. Properly account for income taxes, employee future benefits and leases.
3. Prepare two financial statements – the Statement of Shareholders' Equity and the Cash Flow Statement and communicate the results using the appropriate format.
4. Apply present value concepts to solve accounting problems.

4.2 Handling of the Course

Class-Time: Class time will consist of lectures, problem solving and discussion. Class discussion is encouraged so please be prepared for class by working ahead.

Solutions: Official solutions to the exercises, problems and writing assignments taken up in-class will be made available on OWL after the relevant material is covered.

Tests and Examinations: The tests and final examination will test the student's comprehension of both the technical and conceptual aspects of the course.

How to maximize your learning and your grade in this course:

COME TO CLASS, REVIEW CLASS NOTES AND PRACTICE, PRACTICE, PRACTICE!

To perform well in this course, you must spend time answering extra problems and checking the answers to test your understanding. To maximize your learning, you should make an honest attempt at the question before peeking at the solution. Simply reading a question and then turning to the solution right away is next to useless. You will find that there is likely to be a direct correlation between the number of problems you prepare and your attendance in class and your course grade.

We recommend the following study approach:

1. Go over your class notes and all problems done in class. Re-do the problems on your own to see if you can arrive at the same solution as was derived in class.
2. Use the textbook as a reference source for topics you are having difficulty with.
3. Do as many problems as you need to feel you have a good comprehension of the material. You can use the Study Guide and your textbook's website for additional practice questions and quizzes.

This is not a course to register in if you are seeking an easy credit. For many students, this course is a difficult one. Part of this difficulty stems from a challenging subject matter, but the biggest difficulty comes from failing to devote enough effort to working with the material. Like calculus and other similar courses where no two problems look alike, accounting requires that you practice working with it ---over and over and over. You are unlikely to learn by merely watching someone else "do accounting".

These observations have a number of implications for you and me. First, you will have to spend many hours during, and after class working on the course. During class, you should ask questions whenever they arise and don't stop asking until you are satisfied that you understand the explanations. This class contains a lot of new vocabulary and concepts so don't be afraid to ask for clarification or examples. After class, you should review both your class notes and the suggested solutions to the assigned problems to improve your understanding. It is absolutely essential that you keep up with the assigned readings and end-of-chapter problems.

In exchange for your hard work, you can expect the same from me. For example, expect me to come to class with an organized outline for the day's topics. Expect me to enthusiastically answer any and all of your questions, either in-person during class and office hours, or via e-mail. Expect me to provide timely feedback on how well you understand the material.

5. Evaluation

Evaluation	Percentage of Course Grade
Assignment – due Thursday October 13, 2016 at 1:00 pm	10%
Mid-term exam – in class Monday, October 31, 2016 12:30-3:20 pm	30%
In-class hand-in problems – weekly (released by 10-28-2016)	5%
In-class hand-in problems - weekly	15%
Final Exam – TBD	40%

Students are REQUIRED TO COMPLETE ALL COMPONENTS (assignment, mid-term, in-class hand-ins and final exam) of this course to pass the course. There are no exceptions to this. Extra assignments to improve grades will NOT be allowed. Grades will not be adjusted on the basis of need. It is important to monitor your Lecture and Examination Schedule.

The financial accounting assignment and its requirements are posted on OWL. This assignment will draw on your critical thinking, analytical and writing skills. You are to work in a group consisting of two students. The assignment is due Thursday, October 13, 2016 at 1:00 pm. The assignment must be handed in on time. The assignment can be given to the instructor during class time, delivered to her office or put in the mail slot across from SSC room 4305. An assignment submitted late will result in a mark of 0.

The mid-term and final exams are in a multiple choice and short answer format. The mid-term exam is scheduled for 3 hours and the final exam is scheduled for 4 hours. Exams are closed book examinations. Dictionaries are NOT allowed into the examinations. Only non-programmable calculators will be allowed into the exams. If you are unsure, please ask your professor to check your calculator. All electronic devices (includes cell phones) must be put away in your bag. They may not be on your person. Anyone found with an electronic device on their person will receive a grade of zero on the exam.

Students are responsible for material covered in the lectures as well as the assigned chapters in the text. The mid-term will be held in class on Monday, October 31, 2016. The final exam will be scheduled during the exam period. Exams will not be returned to students but may be reviewed in the instructor's office.

Weekly Hand-In Problems: For most weeks of the course there will be a problem, or several problems, assigned for completion during class. You will be able to work on these problems with other students in the class. At the end of the class, the problems will be handed in to the instructor, who will mark them and return them to you by the following week. These problems will not be scheduled in advance, although I expect to give at least one problem set per assigned chapter, in anticipation of having a problem to complete given to you in class.

The hand-inn problems will be marked out of 5 marks according to the following rubric:

Level	Description
0	Did not submit the solution, or submitted a solution other than the one requested.
1 - 2	Submits the solution but has done very little of the analysis/work.
3	Submits the solution which shows only rudimentary understanding of the material covered by the problem assigned.
4 – 4.5	Submits a solution which is substantially correct but with one or two small omissions/errors present.
5	Submits a solution which completely answers the question posted by the assigned problem.

As it is recognized that on occasion some students may need to miss a class during the term, I will remove your lowest hand-in grade when determining the grade allocated to this component of your final grade. If more than 1 class/hand-in problem is missed, and documentation is provided to Academic Counselling to demonstrate that these absences are legitimate, then that portion of the hand-in grade will be added to your final exam.

6. University Policy Regarding Illness

6.1 Illness

The University recognizes that a student's ability to meet his/her academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The University further recognizes that medical situations are deeply personal and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. However, in order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student's overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation supplied (see below for process) indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet his/her academic responsibilities.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the appropriate Dean's office (the Office of the Dean of the student's Faculty of registration/home Faculty) together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. These documents will be retained in the student's file, and will be held in confidence in accordance with the University's Official Student Record Information Privacy Policy http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/general/privacy.pdf

Once the petition and supporting documents have been received and assessed, appropriate academic accommodation shall be determined by the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's instructor(s). Academic accommodation may include extension of deadlines, waiver of attendance requirements for classes/labs/tutorials, arranging Special Exams or Incompletes, re-weighting course requirements, or granting late withdrawals without academic penalty.

Academic accommodation shall be granted only where the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete his/her academic responsibilities. (Note: it will not be sufficient to provide documentation indicating simply that the student was seen for a medical reason or was ill.)

A form to be completed by off-campus physicians is available at:
http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf

Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and their Academic Counselling office in a timely manner.

In the case of a final examination in the course, the student must arrange for a Special Examination or Incomplete through their Dean's office, for which you will be required to provide acceptable documentation.

If you feel that you have a medical or personal problem that is interfering with your work, you should contact your instructor and the Faculty Academic Counselling Office as soon as possible. Problems may then be documented and possible arrangements to assist you can be discussed at the time of occurrence rather than on a retroactive basis. In general, retroactive requests for grade revisions on medical or compassionate grounds will not be considered.

6.2 Make Up Examinations

The student must write a make-up exam or assignment if the regularly scheduled exam is missed for reasons for which adequate documentation is received by the instructor. The documentation must be supplied by the Academic Counseling office. The make-up may differ from the original mid-term or assignment.

Students involved with approved out-of-town university activities during the scheduled mid-term exam may apply to the course coordinator for special proctoring privileges to write the mid-term exam.

6.3 Attendance

It is expected that students will attend all classes.

7. University Policy on Cheating and Academic Misconduct

Cheating on exams will not be tolerated; students are referred to the university policy on scholastic offenses (see section 9.0 below). Looking at the test of another student, allowing another student to view your exam, or obtaining information about a test in advance are all examples of cheating. Students found cheating will receive a zero (0%) on that exam. A number of safeguards will be employed to discourage cheating. For example, examination supervisors (proctors) of the tests may ask students to move to another seat during the exam, cover their paper, avert their eyes from other students' papers, remove baseball caps, etc. This is not meant as a personal affront nor as an accusation of cheating, rather as vigilant attempts at proctoring. A copy of guidelines about how to avoid cheating can be obtained from the office of the Ombudsperson, Room 3135 WSSB, (519) 661-3573.

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offenses. Students are urged to read the section on Scholastic Offenses in the Academic Calendar. Note that such offenses include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate, consult your instructor. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" will not be accepted as an excuse.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offense include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University.

8. Procedures for Appealing Academic Evaluations

In the first instance, all appeals of a grade must be made to the course instructor (informal consultation). If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal must be sent to the Assistant Program Director or Designate of the BMOS program. If the response of the Assistant Director is considered unsatisfactory to the student, he/she may then appeal to the Dean of the Faculty in which the course of program was taken. Only after receiving a final decision from the Dean, may a student appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic. A Guide to Appeals is available from the Ombudsperson's Office.

9. Student Responsibilities

Material covered in lectures will not always be the same as material covered in the textbook. These two sources should be viewed as complimentary and not redundant. As such, students who want to do well in this course are strongly encouraged to attend lectures on a regular basis.

In this class, some students may be unaware that their private discussions are distracting to other people. If you feel that students are distracting your attention from the material, then you should ask them to be quiet. If you feel uncomfortable doing this (or the problem persists), then please see the instructor. In addition, please avoid engaging in private discussions with other students during the lectures.

To avoid unnecessary distractions, please arrive to each class on time.

10. Support Services

10.1 Support Services

The Registrar's office can be accessed for Student Support Services at <http://www.registrar.uwo.ca>

Student Support Services (including the services provided by the USC listed here) can be reached at: <http://westernusc.ca/services/>

Student Development Services can be reached at: <http://www.sdc.uwo.ca/>

Students who are in emotional/mental distress should refer to Mental Health@Western http://www.health.uwo.ca/mental_health/ for a complete list of options about how to obtain help.

11. Other Issues

11.1 Grade Policy

The DAN Program has a grade policy which states that for courses in the 3000 range, the class average must fall between 70% and 77% for all sections of a course taught by the same instructor. In very exceptional circumstances only, class averages outside this range may be approved by the Undergraduate Chair or Chair. Class averages are not grounds for appeal.

11.2 Short Absences

If you miss a class due to minor illness or other problems, check your course outlines for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or exam. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow the missed lectures notes from a classmate.

11.3 Extended Absences

If you are absent more than approximately two weeks or if you get too far behind to catch up, you should consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses. The Academic Counsellors can help you to consider the alternatives. At your request, they can also keep your instructors informed about your difficulties.

11.4 Academic Concerns

If you are in academic difficulty, it is strongly recommended that you see your academic counsellor.

11.5 Important Dates:

September 8, 2016	Classes begin
September 16, 2016	Last day to add a full course or first-term half course
October 27 - 28, 2016	Fall Study Break
November 5, 2016	Last day to drop a first term half course.
December 7, 2016	Fall Session classes end.
December 8-9, 2016	Study Days
December 10-21, 2016	December examination period

12. Exam Information

- Bring student identification to exams.
- Nothing is to be on/at one's desk during an exam except a pencil, an eraser, and the individual's student card
- Do not wear baseball caps to exams
- Do not bring music players, cell phones, beepers, or other electronic devices to exams
- Anyone found with a cell phone on their person at any time during the exam will receive a grade of zero on this exam.

For The University of Western Ontario Senate Regulations, please see the Handbook of Academic and Scholarship Policy at:

http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/academic_policies/index.html

13. E-mail Policies

The following policies apply to all emails between students and the Professor. Please respect the fact that the Professor receives hundreds of emails from students and must deal with those emails in a fair and organized manner. Non-acceptable emails will receive a reply saying only "Please see Email Policies on the course outline".

13.1 UWO.CA Email Addresses Only

For privacy reasons, students must use their Western email accounts to contact the Professor. The Professor will not respond to emails from non-uwo.ca addresses (e.g. hotmail.com, gmail.com, etc.).

13.2 Subject Line Must Include Course and Section Number

The subject line of emails must contain the name or number of the course, and the section number in which the student is enrolled. The Professor teaches different courses and sections and cannot properly respond to questions if he does not know which course or section you are enrolled in.

13.3 Acceptable Emails

- questions about the course content or materials
- asking to set up an appointment to ask questions or review an exam
- notification of illness or other special circumstances
- providing constructive comments or feedback about the course

13.4 Non-Acceptable Emails

- questions that may be answered on OWL or on this course outline
- asking when grades will be posted
- asking what grade a student received
- asking where or when an exam is scheduled or the material covered on an exam
- requests for grade increases, extra assignments, or reweighting of course components
