Textbooks

Byrd, Clarence and Chen, Ida.; Byrd and Chen's Canadian Tax Principles 2017-2018 Edition, Pearson Education Canada, Toronto.

Online version of income tax act available through Western Libraries and on OWL.

3. Course Objectives and Format

3.1 Course objectives

To learn and participate advance concepts in Canadian Income Tax and gain familiarity with the Income Tax Act.

3.2 Course format

Lecture, problem solving, examinations & application of knowledge gained via a term project.

HOW TO DO WELL IN THIS COURSE:

This is not a class for sitting back and watching. You have to be willing to do tax in order to understand tax.

I will be teaching new material by working through problems, discussing Income Tax Act (ITA) wording and layout, and you are expected to be actively engaged in this process. You will not merely copy down solutions; you will determine solutions to problems during class. Some of the in-class problems are listed on the course outline. Some are not. There will be additional problems to help you become more competent with the material. This will often involve collaborating with other students. The problems noted on the class schedule are to give you practice.

Please keep these things in mind:

- 1) Come to class every class, no exceptions.
- 2) Do the practice Exercises from the text book. When doing the exercises, do not look at the solutions first. Please allow yourself to benefit from the process of making mistakes. After you complete an exercise, check the Study Guide to see how you did, and make a note of anything that was confusing. Make sure that you understand the correct solution before moving on.
- 3) Attempt the Assigned Problems before the class in which they will be discussed.
- 4) Stay up to date with the material; you can't afford to fall behind.
- 5) Do as many extra problems as you possibly can find time for.

Important: This is not a course to take for easy credit. It is extremely challenging, and there is an incredible amount of information for you to learn and to remember. No two problems look alike. Watching me do tax problems in class might be fun (but probably isn't), however, it won't help you do tax problems on your own.

My number one hint is: Practice. That is also my number two, three and four hints:

PRACTICE PRACTICE

4. Learning Outcomes

Building upon the knowledge and skills of Introduction to Taxation in Canada – MOS3362A/B, students who successfully complete Advanced Issues in Canadian Taxation – MOS4462A/B will be able to:

- Assemble and properly arrange complex and diverse financial information in order to accurately calculate net income, taxable income and federal income tax payable for corporations, trusts and taxpayers involved in partnerships. (AK)
- Identify opportunities to minimize tax consequences of financial transactions involving corporations and their shareholders and generate multiple solutions. (AK)
- Develop a solution to a tax planning scenario in order to minimize the tax consequences by balancing both short and long term taxpayer objectives and communicate their recommendations in a professional format. (CS)

Students are responsible for material covered in the lectures as well as the assigned chapters/sections in the text. Exams will not be returned to students but may be reviewed in the instructor's office.

Students are REQUIRED TO COMPLETE ALL COMPONENTS of this course. There are no exceptions to this. Extra assignments to improve grades will NOT be allowed. Grades will not be adjusted on the basis of need. It is important to monitor your performance in the course. Remember: You are responsible for your grades in this course.

5.1 Tests and Final Exams:

You must complete all written components in order to pass the course.

The exams will consist of a combination of multiple choice questions and problems, similar to problems which have been dealt with both through the assigned problems and those completed in class.

You are allowed to access online copy of Income Tax Act during exams. Only items that you can bring in are your computer and non programmable calculator. If anytime during exam you are found to have any files accessed/open other than Income Tax Act, you will be asked to leave the exam room and you will be get "ZERO" for that particular test/exam. In order to give you the privilege of accessing Income Tax Act online during exam, aforementioned policy is strictly applied without any exception.

No other items will be permitted at your desk in the examination room. This includes dictionaries, cell phones, PDA's, CD players, iPod's, etc. Having an electronic device on your person during an exam is considered an academic offence, whether you use it or not. Having a cell phone in your possession during an exam, WHETHER OR NOT IT IS TURNED ON, will result in an automatic grade of 0 for the test/. These rules will be strictly enforced as it is my responsibility to do everything possible to prevent cheating on examinations.

5.2 Participation:

- (1) 10% of your final grade will be a result of your contribution to class discussion. You do not get any participation marks for missed classes. If you are told your marks are 75%, it means 75% of (10/12) marks allocated to each class you have attended.
- (2) It is expected that you will arrive on time, and be ready to work when you arrive.
- (3) I will evaluate your participation efforts after each class, taking into consideration both the quality of your participation and the quantity.
- (4) Quality is more important than quantity.
- (5) It is not anticipated that we will encounter any problems with poor preparation for class, disruptive behaviour, or frequent lateness or absences, however, should you choose to behave in any of these ways, you will experience a negative impact on your participation mark. I appreciate it very much when students advise me that they will be late, have to leave early, or will be absent from class.
- (6) The main objective of contributing to class discussion is not to be evaluated, but rather to learn, and to assist other members of the class (including the instructor) to learn.
- (7) The following might assist you in deciding on how you will contribute to the class:

• 90% to 100% - Excellent contribution

- o Consistent contribution to class discussions
- Contributions indicated preparation for class by pre reading and thinking about assigned material, and making an initial attempt at assigned problems
- Frequently explains difficult points or concepts
- Positive direction demonstrated consistently

• 70% to 80% - Good contribution

- Consistent contribution to class discussions
- Contributions indicated preparation for class by pre reading assigned material
- Often demonstrates the capability to explain difficult points or concepts
- Positive direction demonstrated consistently

• 60% – Fair contribution

- o Contributed to class discussions
- Contributions indicated preparation for class
- o Positive direction demonstrated most of the time

40% to 50% – Poor contribution

- Contributed to class discussions infrequently
- Contributions give little indication of preparation for class
- Did not aid in developing a positive classroom atmosphere

• less than 40% - Unsatisfactory contribution

- Rarely contributed to class discussions
- Gave no indication of preparation for class

- Actively inhibited or impeded the course of class discussions
- PLEASE NOTE: Participation marks must be earned. They are not negotiable, however it is important that you understand why you get the mark that you do, so I am always available to discuss matters like this. You should seek feedback on how you are doing at least once during the term. You are encouraged to seek feedback multiple times during the
 term.

5.3 Assignments:

Assignment/cases will be posted at least 2 weeks before the submission date. These are individual assignments in general. Assignment/cases must be submitted electronically on OWL and hard copy should be slipped into the office of instructor (SSC 4423). Regardless of the excuse, all late assignments/cases will have 25% deducted from the marks for each day (24 hours from the deadline) that the assignment is late.

6. University Policy Regarding Illness

6.1 Illness

The University recognizes that a student's ability to meet his/her academic responsibilities may, on occasion, be impaired by medical illness. Illness may be acute (short term), or it may be chronic (long term), or chronic with acute episodes. The University further recognizes that medical situations are deeply personal and respects the need for privacy and confidentiality in these matters. However, in order to ensure fairness and consistency for all students, academic accommodation for work representing 10% or more of the student's overall grade in the course shall be granted only in those cases where there is documentation supplied (see below for process) indicating that the student was seriously affected by illness and could not reasonably be expected to meet his/her academic responsibilities.

Documentation shall be submitted, as soon as possible, to the appropriate Dean's office (the Office of the Dean of the student's Faculty of registration/home Faculty) together with a request for relief specifying the nature of the accommodation being requested. These documents will be retained in the student's file, and will be held in confidence in accordance with the University's Official Student Record Information Privacy Policy

http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/general/privacy.pdf

Once the petition and supporting documents have been received and assessed, appropriate academic accommodation shall be determined by the Dean's Office in consultation with the student's instructor(s). Academic accommodation may include extension of deadlines, waiver of attendance requirements for classes/labs/tutorials, arranging Special Exams or Incompletes, reweighting course requirements, or granting late withdrawals without academic penalty.

Academic accommodation shall be granted only where the documentation indicates that the onset, duration and severity of the illness are such that the student could not reasonably be expected to complete his/her academic responsibilities. (Note: it will not be sufficient to provide documentation indicating simply that the student was seen for a medical reason or was ill.)

A form to be completed by off-campus physicians is available at: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf

Whenever possible, students who require academic accommodation should provide notification and documentation in advance of due dates, examinations, etc. Students must follow up with their professors and their Academic Counselling office in a timely manner.

In the case of a final examination in the course, the student must arrange for a Special Examination or Incomplete through their Dean's office, for which you will be required to provide acceptable documentation.

If you feel that you have a medical or personal problem that is interfering with your work, you should contact your instructor and the Faculty Academic Counselling Office as soon as possible. Problems may then be documented and possible arrangements to assist you can be discussed at the time of occurrence rather than on a retroactive basis. In general, retroactive requests for grade revisions on medical or compassionate grounds will not be considered.

6.2 Make Up Examinations

The student must write a make-up exam if the regularly scheduled exam is missed for reasons for which adequate documentation is received by academic counseling office (this documentation must be supplied to the Academic Counseling office, not to instructor).

6.3 Attendance

It is expected that students will attend all classes. The professor does not provide access to lecture notes. Students are encouraged to obtain missed lecture notes from a fellow student.

7. University Policy on Cheating and Academic Misconduct

Cheating on exams will not be tolerated; students are referred to the university policy on scholastic offenses. Looking at the test of another student, allowing another student to view your exam, or obtaining information about a test in advance are all examples of cheating. Students found cheating will receive a zero (0%) on that exam. A number of safeguards will be employed to discourage cheating. For example, examination supervisors (proctors) of the tests may ask students to move to another seat during the exam, cover their paper, avert their eyes from other students' papers, remove baseball caps, etc. This is not meant as a personal affront nor as an accusation of cheating, rather as vigilant attempts at proctoring. A copy of guidelines about how to avoid cheating can be obtained from the office of the Ombudsperson, Room 3135 WSSB, (519) 661-3573, ombuds@uwo.ca.

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offenses. Students are urged to read the section on Scholastic Offenses in the Academic Calendar. Note that such offenses include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate, consult your instructor. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" will not be accepted as an excuse.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offense include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University. Please Note: The MOS policy of having a cell phone (or smart watch, or fitness tracker that connects to a cell phone) on your person during an evaluation, whether or not it is turned on or accessed in any manner, is automatic ZERO in evaluation.

8. Procedures For Appealing Academic Evaluations

1. In the first instance, all appeals of a grade must be made to the course instructor (informal consultation).

- If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal must be sent to the Undergraduate Chair: Student Affairs of the Department of Management and Organizational Studies.
- 3. If the response of the Undergraduate Chair is considered unsatisfactory to the student, he/she may then appeal to the Dean of the Faculty in which the course of program was taken.
- 4. Only after receiving a final decision from the Dean, may a student appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic. A Guide to Appeals is available from the Ombudsperson's Office.

9. Student Responsibilities

Material covered in lectures will not always be the same as material covered in the textbook. These two sources should be viewed as complimentary and not redundant. As such, students who want to do well in this course are strongly encouraged to attend lectures on a regular basis. Please note that the instructor will not be providing copies of lectures notes or overheads. Therefore, if you miss a lecture, you should try to obtain this material from another student.

In this class, some students may be unaware that their private discussions are distracting to other people. If you feel that students are distracting your attention from the material, then you should ask them to be quiet. If you feel uncomfortable doing this (or the problem persists), then please see the instructor. In addition, please avoid engaging in private discussions with other students during the lectures.

To avoid unnecessary distractions, please arrive to each class on time.

10. Support Services

10.1 Support Services

The Registrar's office can be accessed for Student Support Services at http://www.registrar.uwo.ca

11. Other Issues

11.1 Grade Policy

The DAN Department has a grade policy which states that for courses in the 4000 range, the class average must fall between 70% and 77% for all sections of a course taught by the same instructor. In very exceptional circumstances only, class averages outside this range may be approved by the Undergraduate Chair or Chair.Class averages are not grounds for appeal.

11.2 Short Absences.

If you miss a class due to minor illness or other problems, check your course outlines for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or exam. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow the missed lectures notes from a classmate.

11.3 Extended Absences.

If you are absent more than approximately two weeks or if you get too far behind to catch up, you should consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses. The Academic Counsellors can help you to consider the alternatives. At your request, they can also keep your instructors informed about your difficulties.

11.4 Academic Concerns.

If you are in academic difficulty, it is strongly recommended that you see your academic counsellor.
