2. Calendar Description

2.1 Course Description:

This course provides an understanding of the role of training and the various forms training can take. Students develop a theoretical and applied understanding of training practices in Canadian workplaces as well as a practical knowledge of instructional design.

Lecture: 3 hours

Antirequisite(s): None

Prerequisite(s): Enrollment in 3rd or 4th year of BMOS.

2.2 Senate Regulations

Senate Regulations state, "unless you have either the requisites for this course or written special permission from your Dean to enroll in it, you will be removed from this course and it will be deleted from your record. This decision may not be appealed. You will receive no adjustment to your fees in the event that you are dropped from a course for failing to have the necessary prerequisites."

This regulation is in regards to the COURSES required. Students not in BMOS are permitted to enroll in up to 1.0 MOS courses, per the Academic Timetable.

3. Textbook

Managing Performance Through Training and Development, EIGHTH Edition, by Alan M. Saks, and Robert R. Haccoun, Nelson Education, 2019. (ISBN: 978-0-17-679807-9.) Note: This edition contains significant revisions from earlier editions. Extra readings will also be assigned. You will also be required to access academic journal articles through the WESTERN online Library Catalogue, Electronic Resources or through the UWO bookstore.

4. Course Objectives and Format

4.1 Course objectives

The primary aim of this course is to facilitate understanding of how performance management through the training and development function fits into both the overall mandate of human resources management and the larger environmental and organizational contexts. Participants should gain an understanding of how evidence based decision making is used to assess training needs, design, deliver and administer training and development programs, and ultimately to evaluate the effectiveness of such programs

4.2 Course format

Throughout the course, the dynamic nature of training and development in Canada will be discussed within the context of current theory, research, and current events, and practice (both new developments and established approaches to training and development systems).

In each weekly lecture, numerous examples, role plays, case exercises and class discussions will be introduced to illustrate how theoretical concepts of training and development are applied in practice. Students are expected to read all assigned chapters in the course textbook, all assigned additional reading, and apply that knowledge to class exercises and discussions. Students are also required to conduct research on training issues or practices using a wide variety of resources from both the UWO library catalogue, and other suitable sources and to summarize their findings in a research report. Students are required to contribute to their own learning and to the learning of others through participation in each class.

5. Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of the series, students should be able to:

- Understand a variety of theories and concepts of training and development and how such concepts are linked to performance management in large and small Canadian organizations, unionized and non-unionized workplaces, private, public and non-profit sectors.
- Describe evidence based practices that ensure the training and development function adds value to the organization, such as: the role of training and development in human resources management, principles of adult learning; training needs assessment; training objectives; instructional methods and techniques; program design and evaluation; technology based training; learning and motivation; special needs training, management of the training function; emerging trends, challenges and best practices in training and development.
- Define terms applied to training and development activities and describe learning models, methods, techniques, and skills utilized to conduct training and ensure transfer of learning among individuals and teams, leading to employee development and knowledge creation in organizations and society.
- Develop skills in synthesis and analysis of training and development theory and apply such theory in resolving typical training and development related problems posed in case studies, simulations, exercises, application assignments and discussion questions.

- Examine and evaluate ethical and legal issues associated with effective delivery and management of training in the organization, through discussion and examination of case studies, application assignments and emerging current events.
- Evaluate the role and involvement of training professionals in organizational strategy and competitiveness, leadership development, inclusive management practices, diversity, organizational learning, creativity and innovation.
- Conduct research to determine what types of changes have occurred in training and development over time and analyze findings to determine the causes for such changes; identify trends in training and the implications for organizations and society going forward.
- Apply report writing skills to describe research results in a clear and cohesive way to inform others of discernible and important trends in training over time.

6. Evaluation

Your final mark will be a product of your performance in this course as assessed by your instructor, and will be calculated using the weight assigned to each course component, as shown below:

Participation	20%	Mid Term	25%
Research Assignment	30%	Final Exam	25%

Students are REQUIRED TO COMPLETE ALL COMPONENTS of this course. There are no exceptions to this. Extra assignments to improve grades will NOT be allowed. Grades will not be adjusted on the basis of need. It is important to monitor your performance in the course. Remember: You are responsible for your grades in this course.

PARTICIPATION (20%)

Participation is an important component of this course and includes regular attendance in class as well as participation in any exercises, games, case studies, simulations and discussions that occur. Note that you are expected to remain in class (once arrived) except for class breaks determined by the instructor. “Drifting” in and out of the classroom while class is in session is distracting to the instructor and others and will negatively impact your participation mark.

You are expected to stay current with your readings so that you arrive in class prepared to ask questions, provide ideas and generally contribute to the learning community on an ongoing basis. See the attached Instructor Standards for Class Participation for greater detail on how participation will be marked.

If you are exceedingly shy, speak to me early in the course so that we can discuss other ways for you to contribute. You are expected to manage this aspect of your own learning style in order to meet course requirements. (For example, you may choose to bring the instructor course relevant articles from time to time if you feel you cannot contribute enough verbally to maintain your participation mark. The protocol for submitting such articles can be found on the OWL website for this class. Note that articles must be submitted at the start of class, and be relevant to the topics for discussion in that particular class. There are no makeups for missed participation.)

TRAINING RESEARCH ASSIGNMENT (30%)

You will work with one partner to conduct research about training in an organization selected by you and to write a Training Research Report of a 16 – 18 pages (approximately 300 words per page), excluding cover page and bibliography. Specific details and suggestions for the assignment are addressed in the Guidelines for the assignment which will be found on the course website. It is your responsibility to ensure that you access and read such Guidelines. A brief one page Statement of Intent describing the organization you have chosen and your approach to the assignment as well as three of your initial research sources (in bibliographic format) is also required. Statements of Intent containing vague information on research sources will need to be resubmitted and will be considered late. Expectations of the Statement of Intent are also contained in the Guidelines for Training Research Report.

Your Statement of Intent and Research Reports are due in hardcopy at the beginning of class on the dates indicated below. You are also required to a digital copy of your assignment to Turnitin.com, using the Assignment Dropbox of our SAKAI course website, by midnight on the assignment deadline.

Deadlines:

Research Statement of Intent due beginning of class:	November 12th, 2019
Research Report due beginning of class:	November 26th, 2019
Submit Research Report to OWL Dropbox by midnight (automatically submits to Turnitin.com):	November 26th, 2019

Late Penalties: Failure to submit a Statement of Intent describing your intentions and approach to the assignment by the above noted deadline will result in a penalty of 5% on your final grade for the term assignment. Very late Statements of Intent or failure to submit same may result in a decision not to accept the final report by your instructor. Penalty for late submission of your Training Research Report is 5% on the first day and 2% for each day thereafter including weekends.

EXAMS (50%)

There are two non-cumulative exams in this course including a midyear examination worth 25% and a final examination worth 25%. Exam format may consist of a combination of multiple choice, true-false questions, a case study, and/or short answer questions. Exams are scheduled for two hours and are closed book examinations. The mid-term will be scheduled during class time and the final exam will be scheduled during the exam period by the Registrar. Exams will not be returned to students but may be reviewed individually in the instructor's office (by appointment.)

Students are responsible for material covered in the assigned chapters/sections in the text as well as any additional material covered in the course and indicated for the exam. The multiple choice and true false questions on the exams will be scored using the program Scan Exam which examines the answer sheets for unusual coincidences in the pattern of answers given which may be indicative and used as supporting evidence of cheating. Dictionaries and calculators are NOT allowed into the examinations.

Electronic devices of any kind (including pagers, cell phones, smart watches and calculators) are NOT permitted at exams.

Students are REQUIRED TO COMPLETE ALL COMPONENTS of this course. There are no exceptions to this. Extra assignments to improve grades will NOT be allowed.

Grades will not be adjusted on the basis of need. It is important to monitor your performance in the course. Remember: You are responsible for your grades in this course.

The DAN Department has a grade policy which states that for courses in the 3000 – 4000 range, the class average must fall between 70% and 77% for all sections of a course taught by the same instructor. In very exceptional circumstances only, class averages outside this range may be approved by the Undergraduate Chair or Chair. Class averages are not grounds for appeal.

INSTRUCTOR STANDARDS FOR CLASS PARTICIPATION

Students are expected to attend all classes and to remain in class once arrived (except for a class break), and to participate actively in their own learning. Active learning means paying attention in class and taking responsibility for your own learning, as well as helping others to learn more about course material. Active learning in this course can include, but is not limited to, contributing to class discussion, presentations or debates, application exercises, posing interesting questions, and/or bringing relevant media articles or other exhibits to the attention of your instructor.

Note: Playing videos, texting, processing e-mail or surfing the internet on a laptop or other electronic device during class is considered to be a distraction to other students and to the instructor. Such activity will be interpreted as a decision on your part to NOT participate in class activity, and will thus reduce your participation mark. Your instructor will assess both the quantity and quality of student participation in each class, based on attendance and the following criteria for evaluation.

A – EXCELLENT contribution

- Attends all classes and places full attention on the lecture
- Contributes consistently to class discussions and supports contribution of colleagues
- Contributions indicate preparation and critical thinking
- Frequently shares insights and/or facilitates understanding of difficult concepts
- Occasionally builds arguments for a position
- Provides leadership in creating positive environment

B – GOOD Contribution

- Attends class regularly, places attention on the lecture, and contributes consistently to class discussions
- Contributions indicate preparation and careful thought
- Often willing to explain difficult points or concepts
- Occasionally builds arguments for a position
- Supports positive classroom environment

C – FAIR Contribution

- Attends class occasionally or often and/or contributes to class discussion occasionally
- Provides minimal evidence of preparation and thought
- Rarely builds arguments for a position

D - POOR Contribution

- Attends class infrequently and/or rarely if ever contributes to class discussion or attends class but spends considerable class time texting or surfing the internet
- Provides little or no evidence of preparation or thought
- Distracts other students from class activity

Participation is recorded following the conclusion of each class. If you have a medical or other condition that prevents you from attending class regularly (or participating actively as described above), advise the instructor early in the semester. You will be required to provide confirmation of your situation from the Academic Counselor. See the Policy Regarding Illness and personal situations described in the General Information section (regarding term tests, final examinations, late assignments, short absences, extended absences, documentation of various personal situations and academic concerns) forming part of this Course Outline.

8. Student Responsibilities

Students should familiarize themselves with Western University Senate Regulations, please see: http://www.uwo.ca/univsec/academic_policies/index.html.

Material covered in lectures will not always be the same as material covered in the textbook. These two sources should be viewed as complimentary and not redundant. As such, students who want to do well in this course are strongly encouraged to attend lectures on a regular basis. Please note that the instructor will not be providing copies of lectures notes or overheads. Therefore, if you miss a lecture, you should try to obtain this material from another student.

8.1 Respect

Please act respectfully towards the classroom, the Professor and your fellow students. Acting respectfully means arriving on time, turning off phones, avoiding private discussions during lectures, refraining from viewing non-course material on your laptops, and cleaning up after yourself. Acting respectfully provides a better learning experience for everyone.

Private in-class discussions are distracting to students and the Professor. If other students are distracting your attention from the material, you should ask them to be quiet. If you feel uncomfortable doing this (or the problem persists), please see the instructor.

Late arrivals are also distracting. Please try to arrive on time for classes.

8.2 No Recording of Classes

Students are not permitted to record any portion of a class, audio or video, without the prior written permission of the professor.

8.3 Copyright Notice

Lectures and course materials, including power point presentations, outlines, and similar materials, are protected by copyright. You may take notes and make copies of course materials for your own educational use. You may not record lectures, reproduce (or allow others to reproduce), post or distribute lecture notes, wiki material, and other course materials publicly and/or for commercial purposes without my written consent.

9. Exam Policies

- Bring student identification to exams.
- Nothing is to be on/at one's desk during an exam except a pencil, an eraser, and the individual's student card
- Do not wear baseball caps to exams
- Do not bring music players, cell phones, beepers, or other electronic devices to exams
- To ensure fairness to all students, questions will not be answered during exams.

10. E-mail Policies

The following policies apply to all emails between students and the Professor. Please respect the fact that the Professor receives hundreds of emails from students and must deal with those emails in a fair and organized manner. Unacceptable emails will receive a reply saying only "Please see Email Policies on the course outline".

10.1 UWO.CA Email Addresses Only

For privacy reasons, students must use their Western email accounts to contact the Professor. The Professor will not respond to emails from non-uwo.ca addresses (e.g. hotmail.com, gmail.com, etc.).

10.2 Subject Line Must Include Course and Section Number

The subject line of emails must contain the name or number of the course, and the section number in which the student is enrolled. The Professor teaches different courses and sections and cannot properly respond to questions if he does not know which course or section you are enrolled in.

10.3 Acceptable Emails

- questions about the course content or materials
- asking to set up an appointment to ask questions or review an exam
- notification of illness or other special circumstances
- providing constructive comments or feedback about the course

10.4 Unacceptable Emails

- questions that may be answered on OWL or on this course outline
- asking when grades will be posted
- asking what grade a student received
- asking where or when an exam is scheduled or the material covered on an exam
- requests for grade increases, extra assignments, or reweighting of course components

11. Attendance

It is expected that students will attend all classes. The professor does not provide access to lecture notes or post powerpoint slides on the class SAKAI website. Students are encouraged to obtain missed lecture notes from a fellow student.

11.1 Short Absences.

If you miss a class due to minor illness or other problems, check your course outlines for information regarding attendance requirements and make sure you are not missing a test or exam. Cover any readings and arrange to borrow the missed lectures notes from a classmate.

11.2 Extended Absences.

If you are absent more than approximately two weeks or if you get too far behind to catch up, you should consider reducing your workload by dropping one or more courses. The Academic Counsellors can help you to consider the alternatives. At your request, they can also keep your instructors informed about your difficulties.

12. Grade Fairness

Fairness requires that all students be treated equally and be evaluated using the criteria set out in this course outline. The evaluation criteria are based on actual achievement and not on how hard a student has tried. Claims by students of an excellent academic history, good attendance record, need to obtain or maintain a scholarship, desire to be admitted to Ivey or graduate school, or other personal issues, cannot be used to justify a higher grade in the course or a reweighting of course components. There is no extra work or assignments available for extra credit or to "make up" for a course component that was missed or performed poorly.

13. Posting of Grades

Midterm exam grades will be posted on OWL once the grades are available. Final exam grades and final course grades are not posted on OWL and are only available once they have been posted by the Registrar under "Academic Summary" at the Student Centre website.

14. University Policy Regarding Illness

14.1 Illness

For details on University Policy and student responsibilities go to:

https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/Academic_Consideration_for_absences.pdf

Students who experience an extenuating circumstance (illness, injury, or other extenuating circumstance) sufficiently significant to temporarily render them unable to meet academic requirements may submit a request for academic consideration through the following routes:

- i. Submitting a Self-Reported Absence form provided that the conditions for submission are met (maximum of 2 from September to April, valid for 48 hours or less, on course work worth less than 30%); or
- ii. For medical absences, submitting a Student Medical Certificate (SMC) : https://www.uwo.ca/univsec/pdf/academic_policies/appeals/medicalform.pdf signed by a licensed medical or mental health practitioner in order to be eligible for Academic Consideration; or
- iii. For non-medical absences, submitting appropriate documentation (e.g., obituary, police report, accident report, court order, etc.) to Academic Counselling in order to be eligible for academic consideration. Students are encouraged to contact their Academic Counselling unit to clarify what documentation is appropriate.

Students seeking academic consideration:

- are advised to consider carefully the implications of postponing tests or midterm exams or delaying handing in work;
- are encouraged to make appropriate decisions based on their specific circumstances, recognizing that minor ailments (upset stomach) or upsets (argument with a friend) are not an appropriate basis for a self-reported absence;
- must communicate with their instructors no later than 24 hours after the end of the period covered by either the self-reported absence or SMC, or immediately upon their return following a documented absence.

14.2 Make Up Examinations

The student must write a make-up exam if the regularly scheduled exam is missed for reasons for which adequate documentation is received by the instructor (this documentation must be supplied by the Academic Counseling office).

The date and time of the make-up examination will be set by the instructor, who will communicate the date to the student.

If a student is unable to meet the scheduled make-up as agreed, then the student is responsible for obtaining new accommodations from Academic Counselling, and seeking a new make-up date with the instructor within a reasonable time frame.

15. University Policy on Cheating and Academic Misconduct

Students are responsible for understanding the nature of and avoiding the occurrence of plagiarism and other academic offenses. Students are urged to read the section on Scholastic Offenses in the Academic Calendar. Note that such offenses include plagiarism, cheating on an examination, submitting false or fraudulent assignments or credentials, impersonating a candidate, or submitting for credit in any course without the knowledge and approval of the instructor to whom it is submitted, any academic work for which credit has previously been obtained or is being sought in another course in the University or elsewhere. If you are in doubt about whether what you are doing is inappropriate, consult your instructor. A claim that "you didn't know it was wrong" will not be accepted as an excuse.

A copy of guidelines about how to avoid cheating can be obtained from the office of the Ombudsperson, Room 3135 WSSB, (519) 661-3573, ombuds@uwo.ca.

Cheating on exams will not be tolerated; students are referred to the university policy on scholastic offenses. Looking at the test of another student, allowing another student to view your exam, or obtaining information about a test in advance are all examples of cheating.

Students found cheating will receive a zero (0%) on that exam. A number of safeguards will be employed to discourage cheating. For example, examination supervisors (proctors) of the tests may ask students to move to another seat during the exam, cover their paper, avert their eyes from other students' papers, remove baseball caps, etc. This is not meant as a personal affront nor as an accusation of cheating, rather as vigilant attempts at proctoring.

The penalties for a student guilty of a scholastic offense include refusal of a passing grade in the assignment, refusal of a passing grade in the course, suspension from the University, and expulsion from the University.

16. Procedures For Appealing Academic Evaluations

1. In the first instance, all appeals of a grade must be made to the course instructor (informal consultation).
2. If the student is not satisfied with the decision of the course instructor, a written appeal must be sent to the Undergraduate Chair: Student Affairs of the Department of Management and Organizational Studies.
3. If the response of the Undergraduate Chair is considered unsatisfactory to the student, he/she may then appeal to the Dean of the Faculty in which the course of program was taken.
4. Only after receiving a final decision from the Dean may a student appeal to the Senate Review Board Academic. A Guide to Appeals is available from the Ombudsperson's Office.

17. Support Services
